STUDENT LIFE

August 30-31, 1972: Orientation and Registration. "Welcome Freshmen" banners and posters greet new and returning students at D.C.C.C. Lines of students wait to pay fees and to buy books; lines of students wait for counseling and advisement; rows of cars occupy every available parking place — all are typical of the beginning. Eventually comes the grandest line, graduation. New friendships initiate by clever wit or congenial smiles. Old friendships are reinforced by spirited laughter and ecstatic hellos.

The car, status symbol to many students on campus, becomes a major problem during the first weeks of classes. Unmarked parking spaces in the restricted parking places force students to run a maze as they attempt to find a vacant space.

Confusion and turmoil herald the first days of classes. Students fortunate enough to escape the misery of drop-add crowd into the bookstore. Elbowing their way from counter to counter, students deplore the prices of used books and curse the prices of new ones. As more and more students pass through the checkout lines, the Cube fills to capacity with music and noise.

As students settle down to vigorous class routine, they feel the need to become more a part of this academic community. Student elections, unanimously acclaimed as the "best ever," propel student interest. The Commuter, advocating a no-censorship policy, provides free space to any student who wishes to express his views on campus, state, national, or international affairs. National elections spark student interest as Nixonities and McGovernites campaign actively for their respective candidates. For the first time, D.C. C.C. has a strong, flexible court system that provides students the opportunity to solve student cases and problems. The S.G.A. comes under fire of the Administrative Council as the S.G.A. fights for the interest of all students and proposes student-oriented suggestions. Student involvement is happening at D.C. C.C.

Weeks of classes wear into months. As finals approach, the anxiety of three strenuous months begins to show in the faces of students. Tests and night-long cramming sessions have taken their toll. Eyes once bright, now blood shot under drooping eyelids, stare into the distance. Professors, equally tired from grading papers, stare back. As the quarter draws to a close, students long for cuts they do not have; notes become illegible; concentration proves more and more difficult. Inevitably, early signs of winter appear, and the quickening of dusk reflects a darkening of spirits.

Two-hour speed writing sessions during the school day are the climax of twelve-hour cramming sessions at night. Finally, tension becomes relief: Exams are over! Students walk and run, smile and frown, as they leave D.C.C.C. for a welcomed vacation.

Inspired by the spirit and festivity of the Yuletide season, weary students trek back to D.C.C.C. in eager anticipation of Christmas holidays. Area merchants adorn store windows with the joys of Christmas while D.C.C.C. students engage in proclaiming their own Christmas joy.

Throughout the winter quarter, the elements challenge the students. The fun of snow also provides the hazard of falling. Chilling winds, bare branches, overly-rosey cheeks chapped lips, and cold hands are physical evidence that winter has definitely arrived. The Cube becomes the hubbub of activity in providing the security of warmth and friendship.

With time, the frozen routine of the winter quarter thaws into spring rains, green trees, chirping birds, and fresh sunshine. Once again students claim nature as their own; cutting classes accompanies "spring fever." Car hoods are favorite gathering places for wiling away lazy, sunny hours during, between, and after classes.

With spring comes graduation followed by three months of summer vacation. These months allow students to recuperate before they flock back in the fall to begin another lap.

Miss Personality;*

Blond-haired, blue-eyed, Rhonda Johnson reigns as the 1973 Miss D.C.C.C. A small town girl from Archdale, N.C., Rhonda plans to major in primary education and teach locally.

In addition to being a Dean's List student, Rhonda is involved in many campus activities. She serves as treasurer of the Freshman Advisory Council and is an active member of Campus Crusade and the Circle K Clubs.

Realizing the importance of student participation, Rhonda feels that the Commuter and the Cavalier are essential in propelling student involvement and relevant student publications.

In reply to the question, "What do you feel is the purpose of your position as Miss D.C.C.C.?" she replied, "The purpose of a queen is to spread happiness and sunshine wherever she goes."

Musician in Residence

The Musicians-in-Residence program at Davidson County Community College is one part of a large program involving five musicians-artists and nine institutions within the North Carolina College System. The North Carolina Arts Council and the North Carolina Department of Community Colleges initiated this cooperative venture last year.

Although the Musicians-in-Residence are members of their respective institutional faculties, they are not required to teach a regular series of classes. Rather than becoming involved with only one area of the campus or with a select group of students, the appointed person is a "musician-at-large" for the entire college community. As far as is known, this is a unique program; the first of its kind in the United States.

Davidson County Community College is fortunate to be able to utilize the services of the talented guitarist, Mr. Robert Guthrie.

"The sad fact is that it looks more and more as if our national sport is not playing at all — but watching. We have become more and more not a nation of athletes but a nation of spectators.

We are under-exercised as a nation. We look, instead of play. We ride, instead of walk. Our existence deprives us of the minimum of physical activity essential for healthy living. And the remedy, in my judgement, lies in one direction; that is, in developing programs for broad participation in exercise by all of our young men and women . . . "

Operating under limited financial accessments, the Student Government Association requires close budget monitoring of all organizations on campus. The issues of financial allocations from the SGA to campus organizations, the lack of student parking facilities and the situation in the "Cube" prove to be the dominate legislation acted upon during the fall quarter. In a year marked with much dissatisfaction and disapproval expressed by the student body, the legislature is forced to carry out its legislative business often under difficult, strained conditions. With the onset of Winter quarter, apprehension strikes the SGA as the number of voting members dwindles to four. The fight for student rights continue.

The Commuter listens for

Working in the cramped limitations of the Commuter staff room, contending with an 8:00-11:00 A.M. Thursday morning Journalism lab, and pushing the 12:30 P.M. Friday publisher's deadline are all typical circumstances of the weekly publication of the Commuter, the campus newspaper. Opening its doors continually to student response, the Commuter fights with the SGA to combat the problem of lack of student involvement on campus. The most reader reaction occurs in the fall of the year when an editorial concerning lax Registration procedures is published in a local newspaper, and one student voices his support for George McGovern. According to Editor John Lowe, "We could do a hell of a lot worse as far as student apathy is concerned on campus."

Elation, Frustration, and Perplexion"

Countless packs of "Spearmint" gum, Fritos and potato chips, "greaseburgers," ash trays filled with ground down cigarette butts, and the echoed sounds of "Sweathog" and "Rare Earth": All are signs characteristic of a year marked by elation, frustration and perplexion. The Cavalier staff fights upcoming deadlines with all-nighters and contends with the ever present problem of obtaining pictures for the book by calling on photographers throughout the campus. Final "D-Day" hits the staff in February and the small, but dedicated group sends in the bulk of the copy for "Kaleidoscope '73."

Aided by the SGA, the Student Court seeks a better understanding of the constitution; thereby, establishing a stronger more flexible court system. Headed by students and ruling upon student oriented cases, the Court proves to be the most powerful since its origin. Chief justice Bill Moore meets with SGA President Terry Davis to lay out specific statutes to govern this body. The bulk of cases ruled upon concern violations of parking regulations and student conduct regulations.

DESIDERATA

GO PLACIDLY AMID THE NOISE & HASTE, & REMEMBER WHAT PEACE THERE MAY BE IN SILENCE. AS FAR AS POSSIBLE WITHOUT surrender be on good terms with all persons. Speak your truth quietly & clearly; and listen to others, even the dull & ignorant; they too have their story. ☛ Avoid loud & aggressive persons, they are vexations to the spirit. If you compare yourself with others, you may become vain & bitter; for always there will be greater & lesser persons than yourself. Enjoy your achievements as well as your plans. ☛ Keep interested in your own career, however humble; it is a real possession in the changing fortunes of time. Exercise caution in your business affairs; for the world is full of trickery. But let this not blind you to what virtue there is; many persons strive for high ideals; and everywhere life is full of heroism. ☛ Be yourself. Especially, do not feign affection. Neither be cynical about love; for in the face of all aridity & disenchantment it is perennial as the grass. ☛ Take kindly the counsel of the years, gracefully surrendering the things of youth. Nurture strength of spirit to shield you in sudden misfortune. But do not distress yourself with imaginings. Many fears are born of fatigue & loneliness. Beyond a wholesome discipline, be gentle with yourself. ☛ You are a child of the universe, no less than the trees & the stars; you have a right to be here. And whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should. ☛ Therefore be at peace with God, whatever you conceive Him to be, and whatever your labors & aspirations, in the noisy confusion of life keep peace with your soul. ☛ With all its sham, drudgery & broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world. Be careful. Strive to be happy. ☛ ☛

FOUND IN OLD SAINT PAUL'S CHURCH, BALTIMORE; DATED 1693

There have been men, great men, whose footsteps have echoed down the corridors of time so that all others, when they have heard these sounds, pause . . . and incline their heads, listening — and I can only pray that somewhere in the broad, dark chasm of the future — a lone man, standing, may hear, however faintly, the sounds of my tread, passing . . .

MORNING

Across the endless plains of Time runs
A ray of sunshine, Floating, skimming
The surface of the green grass, reaching
For the grey sky, And dancing on the sparkling water.

The wind and rain does fall but the ray of sunshine flirts with the morning dew.

The quiet solitude of an old man
walking up a Winding cobbled street makes up for the Black Smoke
on the Horizon.

Chris Crawford

FREEDOM

The sound of the sunshine whispered
Through the midnight of the Trees crying
Freedom

The waves washed ashore Like never ending stars in the Universe, Driftwood ravished
by flight and condemnation.

I Alone shall walk the windswept Dunes
And the seagulls will cry out

Freedom

A Lone flag flies over nothing
And the Drifting of a forlorn Breeze screams for

Freedom

Lights and flames pinnacle to a Leated
rage and the searing whistles cry

Freedom

I Lie in the coldness and icy depth of a Lone casket of Dead flowers and whisper

Freedom

Chris Crawford

WHY?

The yellow Lights on the wet streets shine
Like a warning glow from out at sea.

While drops of spent rain fall from the gutters, in time with echoing Footsteps
on the stone.

The wind is Like a child caressing its mother, with soft Lazy Fingertips running through my hair.

The smell of freshly fallen rain is welcome
And smells as Tame as a greenhouse
Just watered, yet full of wild Tenacity
As the Jungle.

The footsteps come closer as time drifts, and the first Leaves of the Autumn fall somberly to the ground
And Lie there to be swept away —

Much Like a Love that was smothered
by Too much Love.

Chris Crawford

ALONE

The echo bounced resoundedly
Through the dark deserted Hall
but the answer was an omnity.
And the dust of age did Fall.

The moon's bright Light reflected
The battered outside Flesh
What Tortures or happiness had it seen
No matter, could I not guess?

The musty smell of solitude
of years gone by Alone
No human Feet had entered
Since many years before my own.

A scarred and beaten soldier
After many years a Truce
And now it Lies quite empty
Among the windswept spruce.

Chris Crawford

Davidson County Community College. An academic community of 1,500, intended to provide the opportunity for self-development, mental growth and maturity, but unintentionally providing an artificial isolation from society's ills. Centered in the heart of Davidson County, the college exerts academic influence within all the surrounding counties of Forsyth, Guilford, Randolph, Rowan, and Davey. On campus rigid schedules and daily routines demand scholastic preoccupation in the learning process.

Being a commuting type school poses problems for initiating campus activities. Labeled by some as conservative, by others as apathetic, most D.C.C.C. students seem, superficially at least, unconcerned about campus matters, much less problems of ecology, overpopulation, and social corruption.

A new school year is heralded as the S.G.A. begins its quest for student's rights; student involvement begins to happen. Students begin countless hours of individual and group self-expression and action. All indicate a positive striving to combat problems — here in Lexington, on the campus of Davidson County Community College.

The potential is here. Exercising and expressing individual ideas can alter the future — Awareness of national problems is a step to arrest them. Acceptance of one's individual responsibility begins here at Davidson County Community College. The student is the potential. Wherever he goes, he reflects a measure of success of the college. But moreso, he reflects a measure of success of himself. Wherever he goes he takes with him part of the potential energy to light not only Davidson County Community College, but the world.
